

AIB Announces CEO Appointment

22nd November 2011

Allied Irish Banks, p.l.c. ("AIB") is pleased to announce the appointment of David Duffy as its Chief Executive Officer.

Mr Duffy, aged 50, has held a number of senior roles in the international banking industry including, most recently, the position of CEO at Standard Bank International. He was previously President and CEO, Americas, ING Barings. (full career history below)

He attended Terenure College and is a graduate of Trinity College Dublin.

Mr Duffy will take up his post in AIB in December 2011. His remuneration package will be in line with Government guidelines.

Commenting on Mr Duffy's appointment, AIB's Executive Chairman, David Hodgkinson said:-

"The Board of AIB is delighted to welcome David to the organisation.

"He brings with him a wealth of international experience and a sound knowledge of the local market. He also has a proven track record in successfully managing banks through challenging times.

"He is ideally suited to the task of leading AIB's extensive restructuring and delivering the business performance that will best serve its customers and return the bank to sustainable viability.

"We look forward to working with him and wish him every success."

Mr Hodgkinson will remain on the Board of AIB in the role of non-executive Chairman.
